Assistant to the Bishop

We were studying the book of Acts. In the beginning of the book there is a story about a man whom John and Peter met at the gate of the temple, and who Peter healed. It was a miracle. So we talked about miracles in the bible study that night.

“Those who can heal, have a special gift”, one said.

“They have stronger faith”, added another.

“How?” asked the third one.

The group shared their thoughts and experiences about the mysteries of faith.

“I’ve never healed anyone. So, I cannot say for sure whether or not stronger faith is needed”, said a person who had quietly listened to the conversation. “I don’t have a gift of healing, but I have a car, and I can drive. I may not be able to say to someone with a disability ‘get up and walk’, but I can offer them a ride. That is my gift.”

When Jesus healed people, their lives changed. First of all, they could move, they could go different places. It also meant that they weren’t isolated anymore. They could belong to a community. They could participate. If I offer a ride to a person who cannot walk or who cannot afford to take a taxi, it has the same effect: It nourishes that person’s faith. I believe that to be as valuable as to say “stand up and walk”.

You may say that miracles must be extraordinary and supernatural and that an everyday act cannot be a miracle because anyone can do it. But while any of us could offer a ride, a meal or shelter, the fact is that many of us don’t. It is also a fact that a random act of kindness can be seen as a miracle by those who receive it.

Open your eyes to see your gift. An everyday gift is as good as a charismatic, special gift. Ordinary gifts are what we need here at this time in this age. And they work. Trust me.

One day Peter and John were going up to the temple at the hour of prayer, at three o’clock in the afternoon. And a man lame from birth was being carried in. People would lay him daily at the gate of the temple called the Beautiful Gate so that he could ask for alms from those entering the temple. When he saw Peter and John about to go into the temple, he asked them for alms. Peter looked intently at him, as did John, and said, “Look at us.” And he fixed his attention on them, expecting to receive something from them. But Peter said, “I have no silver or gold, but what I have I give you; in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, stand up and walk.” And he took him by the right hand and raised him up; and immediately his feet and ankles were made strong... Reformation 500 event London On.

Submitted by Hugh Drogemuller

Planning is well under way for the Reformation 500 event to be held at St. Paul's Cathedral, London ON. at 3.30pm Sunday October 22nd 2017.

The event will feature a presentation by Dr. Christine Helmer on what Martin Luther has to say on matters relevant to today's society. Christine Helmer (Ph.D. Yale) is Professor of Religious Studies at Northwestern University, Evanston Ill. She is also the current holder of the Arthur E. Anderson Teaching and Research Professorship. Professor Helmer's area of research and teaching is Christian theology with primary interest in the theology of Martin Luther.

The assembly will sing hymns which emphasize the theology of the Reformation. Care has been taken to include hymns that are set to tunes familiar to most. An effort has been made to include some hymns that originated within the various Reformation traditions.

The highly acclaimed 70 voice Amabile Youth Singers will lead our songs accompanied by organ and a brass quintet plus tympani. The choir will also perform two items one of which will be a chant version of Psalm 46.

Entrance and parking are free. Arrangements have been made for free parking in The London Life parking lot on the east side of Clarence Street between Queens Ave and Dufferin Street. For the east end entrance of the Cathedral you just walk across Clarence Street and through another parking lot.

The event is being sponsored by Lutheran Social Services (London) a public Foundation owned by the six ELC and ELCIC churches in London ON. This is not a worship event. It is a lecture and hymn sing. Any questions, please email Hugh Drogemuller at hughdrog@gmail.com

Earlier this year, Bishop Susan Johnson sent out a letter advising of proposed changes to the Letters of Call and of new documents that better clarify the relationship between rostered ministers and congregations. These documents are posted on the ELCIC website.

The letter stated, "It is our hope and expectation that these proposed changes will enhance the quality of our vocational relationships and deepen our bonds of mutual care and accountability."

We invite Congregational Council Chairs, Congregational Treasurers and Rostered Leaders to a 75 minute presentation to review the content of these documents, chaired by Bishop Michael Pryse and facilitated by Lisa Thiessen, ELCIC Group Services Inc.

Adolescent, child and play therapy

Although WLS has long been educating clergy in pastoral counselling for adults, we also strengthen the emotional and spiritual well-being of children. About 15-20% of students want to work with children or adolescents. Children naturally respond with play when dealing with crisis. A child's attention span is much shorter than an adult's, so play is a natural way for children to communicate. The Delton Glebe Counselling Centre has a child/play therapy room (above photo) stocked with tools to encourage symbolic play which helps them increase confidence and heal trauma from bullying, divorce, or the death of a loved one.
